21 & 22 NOVEMBER 2026

INFO BOOKLET

Free space to do whatever you want with :)

Welcome to the Anarchist Bookfair Amsterdam!

This is the 10th year of the Anarchist Book Fair Amsterdam! 10 years already of converging together to build a movement to fight against all forms of exploitation and oppression. 10 years of meeting new comrades and reconnecting with old friends. We're very excited to have you here during the weekend and hope you have a wonderful time!

In this booklet, you will find as much information as we could fit about food, stands, workshops, and you will find three maps:

- One map with all the buildings (Dokhuis, IIRE, Wereldhuis and Rapenburg)
- One map of the inside of the Dokhuis
- One map with the inside of the IIRE.

We want to ask if you can, to donate to the book fair.

After we have covered our own costs, we will give any extra we have to anarchist projects in Ukraine, Belarus and a self-organized space in Syria.

Solidarity Collectives

Solidarity Collectives is a group of Ukrainian anarchists and anti-authoritarians who united in 2022 to support our comrades fighting the Russian imperial aggression in Ukraine and help people affected by the war. Since then, we have built a mutual aid network for the anti-authoritarian movement in Ukraine.

ABC Belarus

Anarchist Black Cross Belarus (ABC-Belarus) supports repressed, arrested and imprisoned anarchists as well as social activists whose ideas and activities do not contradict the ideas of anarchism. Between 2009 and 2022 the group has supported more than 70 activists in various forms, ranging from paying lawyers and other legal fees to supporting the families and loved ones of the repressed.

Not a single day in the existence of the collective has passed without anarchists or antifascists being held in Belarusian prisons. Solidarity allows comrades to continue to resist repression even in the most difficult moments of life. This is why we consider it extremely important to develop the infrastructure of the ABC not only in Belarus, but also in other countries, in order to create a truly international movement of solidarity.

The People's Want and its Mujawara initiative.

Mujawara (which comes from the Arabic word for neighbouring) is a transnational mutual-aid project linking physical places across the world so they can strengthen, sustain, and empower each other from a revolutionary and autonomous perspective.

The funds will be raised for self-organized space in Central Syria, which will serve as an important hub for hosting local events and autonomous organizing initiatives. This is part of the mujawara initiative of The People's Want

Please give generously, so we can form a front against fascism and imperialism, while we try to lay some of the foundations for a better world together during this weekend!

We hope you enjoy and find extra strength in the coming days to continue your own struggle against capitalism, the state and any form of oppression!

With solidarity,

The ABFA collective

Dokhuis, IIRE, Wereldhuis and Rapenburg

This year the Anarchist Book Fair Amsterdam will take place at a total of 4 venues. At the Dokhuis and IIRE there will be stands and workshops. The Wereldhuis and Rapenburg will host only workshops. Please check the program booklet carefully to make sure you're in the right place to visit your favorite workshop and stand.

Dokhuis, Plantage Doklaan 8: Stands & workshops

IIRE, Lombokstraat 40: Stands & workshops

Wereldhuis, Nieuwe Herengracht 18: workshops

Rapenburg, Rapenburg 51: workshops

A map of all the buildings can be found on the back of the info booklet

The map of the Dokhuis can be found at pages 28 to 31 (in the back of the info booklet)

The map of the IIRE can be found at page 27 (in the back of the info booklet)

No photos

Don't take pictures or videos of people without their consent. We work with an opt-in system. See someone with a smiley sticker? They are okay with their picture taken. Otherwise it's never fine. Also mind people in the background. It's also not okay to take them for your collection. Or if you just send them to your mom.

Food

We'll be serving food again on both days! Throughout both days, various snacks will be available. We'll be serving a hot meal from around 19h on both days. Stick around and have a lovely meal with your friends, comrades, and all the anarchists you met during the weekend! All the food is vegan. If you have allergies or requests, please come and talk to us beforehand.

Raffle

We are having a raffle on both days. You can win fabulous prizes, most of which are donated by the various distro's attending the book fair. The prizes will be announced around 19.00 at the Dokhuis. We will have separate raffles for each day, so make sure you buy the right tickets. The raffle tickets and more info can be found at the info stand at the entrance.

DIY safer space

We all want to have a nice experience at the anarchist book fair, with lots of fun and interesting conversations about anarchism and stuff. This can become difficult if we have to deal with the behaviour and language of others at the book fair. We have to deal with it because we don't simply leave society's baggage at the door. We always carry this baggage around, even when we enter anarchist spaces. Fortunately, we can minimise the effect by proactively challenging people who engage in such behaviour. We can also minimise it by not engaging in oppressive behaviour ourselves.

If you feel safe to call people out, you are encouraged to do so in a way that you feel suits the situation. But please remember that you also had to Google ableism the first time you heard the term. We all have to learn someday.

Should you be called out for your behaviour, try to respond with sympathy and respect to the affected people and use the opportunity to learn something new. We all have the responsibility to educate ourselves; whatever the topic, there probably is a zine and a book somewhere at the fair. Suffice it to say, anarchists are against all forms of oppression. This includes, but is not necessarily limited to, oppression based on (perceived) gender, race, ethnicity, sexuality, ability, and class.

Since we are all about prefigurative politics. We don't want to have these oppressions reproduced and perpetuated at our book fair. There isn't a special group at the fair set up specifically to resolve conflicts and other issues. But if we can live up to our ideals and do it ourselves, perhaps we won't need one. If, however, that doesn't work out, or you don't know what to do, you can always ask someone at the info stand at the entrance for help.

Workshops

Saturday

Self-publishing - fold your zine!
operattiva

11:30 - 13:30
Flores

ENG

Zines have long been a tool for sharing ideas, experiences, stories, and political perspectives outside of mainstream publishing. In this hands-on workshop, you will learn how to make two different zine formats from a single sheet of paper: the classic 8-page mini zine and a 16-page folded zine.

Together, we will cut, fold, and assemble these simple DIY publications while exploring the practical possibilities of self-publishing with minimal materials. No previous experience is needed.

Generating liberation
JD Davids / the Cranky Queer

11:30 - 13:30
Seram

ENG

Generating Liberation is a deeply interactive, disability-justice-oriented workshop that invites participants to experience our bodies and genders as gateways for liberating writing and drawing and practices of refusal. Together, we will explore creative practice itself as a tool for bodily and gender liberation in a time of repression and fear, rather than as a self-imposed mandate for control and production.

Try anarchism for life
Cindy Barukh Milstein

14:00 - 15:00
Flores

ENG

This talk revolves around a thought experiment: What are some of the many beautiful dimensions of anarchism? It's often easier to identify what we're fighting against and want to destroy. But that's only half of our circle, so to speak; anarchism is the beautiful idea that all of us inherently matter, all of us have gifts to offer each other, and together, we have everything we need to bring about forms of freedom, self-determination, and self-governance. Let's explore, then, what we're proactively aspiring toward and continually creating through our many liberatory practices, especially in a time when so much feels impossible.

Transformative justice
Healing Justice Netherlands

14:00 - 16:00
Seram

ENG

How do we practice Transformative Justice in our everyday lives? Words and phrases like "community care," "generative conflict," and "accountability" all sound amazing, but what do they look like in our lives and our facilitation practices? In the training, we dive into concepts like accountability and how we can practice on a small scale daily, and how to plan for care and informed consent.

Anarchisme, ideeën en praktijken
Peter Storm

14:00 - 16:00
Mushroom

NL

What do anarchists want, why do they want it, and how do they go about it? That is what this workshop is about.

Certain themes recur throughout anarchism: a rejection of authority in any form; a pursuit of autonomy and cooperation among free and equal persons; and a method in which the goal of a free, self-governing society is reflected in self-directed forms of action based on voluntary participation, achieving goals not by appealing to a higher authority but by taking action oneself.

In the workshop, Peter Storm will explain the basic ideas that many anarchists identify with. It's intended for newcomers, but can also serve as a refresher course. :-)

Revolutions of Our Times
The Peoples Want

14:00 - 16:00
Kraken's Cove

ENG

Members of The Peoples Want will be on hand to introduce our manifesto, Revolutions Of Our Times. This text was a work of international collaboration, collectively drafted by participants of the various uprisings of the Arab Spring and the global revolutionary wave of 2018-2020 (Sudan, France, Chile, Hong Kong, Lebanon, Iraq, Algeria, etc). In this presentation, we will discuss how The Peoples Want came to be, and describe some of its strategic goals. We will follow this with a discussion on how together we can build a new revolutionary politics of internationalism from below, suited to our times.

Decentralising grassroots funding
Palestine Cafe Utrecht and Anarchist dinners Utrecht

14:00 - 16:00
Kelder 4

ENG

Within the Palestine Solidarity movement, grassroots fundraising is often discussed as one of the most direct ways to support communities in Palestine, especially in Gaza given the urgent need for food, water and other resources. Despite this, we have noticed the irregular and fluctuating nature of support for active fundraisers, as well as fluctuating visibility of them in spaces around the city.

This workshop hopes to discuss how to expand support for grassroots fundraising, including how to more effectively spread and promote fundraisers across the city, building more decentralised approaches to financial redistribution.

IT security for anarchists

Ronja

14:00 - 16:00

ENG

"It's too complicated!" or "It's not useful - big corps & the state already know everything about me." NOO! It's never too late to enhance our IT knowledge and skills! Did you ever wonder about secure messengers, Tor Browser, Tails, encryption, or advanced stuff like open BIOS? Then this input is perfect for you. Don't worry - it won't be boring; there will be memes and breaks ^^

With this little quiz, you can let me know what you already know or what you're interested in:

Student movement in Ukraine amidst war
Priama Diia

15:00 - 16:00
Flores

ENG

Refounded amidst the war, Priama Diia (Direct Action) is an independent student union that mobilises hundreds of students across Ukraine in the fight for free education based on the principles of equality, inclusivity, direct democracy, resistance to commercialization, social and ecological justice. During the workshop, you will learn how the war and neoliberal reforms impact Ukraine's higher education, ways in which students resist them, and how anarchist and progressive ideals can be fulfilled in practice.

Singing revolutionary songs
Verzet per Couplet

15:00 - 16:00
Rapenburg

ENG

Come and sing along with us some of the traditional and present-day strijdliederen.

Last taste of Yaffa
Hasan M. Rajab

16:30 - 18:30
Flores

ENG

When I was forced to leave Gaza, I was forced to live in temporary places in many countries. I was surprised that I couldn't find a single place serving real Palestinian food. Our food is under threat of being claimed by occupation, and I want to share the recipes with the world. That's why I wrote Last Taste of Yaffa.

The book contains the recipes my grandmother passed on to me. When she left everything else behind during the Nakba, she carried them in her memory. Over the last decade, we've kept adapting those recipes and making art from what little the Israeli occupation has allowed into Gaza.

Signalblast: signal anonymous phone tree

Gara

16:30 - 17:30

Seram

ENG

Your squat is under immediate threat of eviction. You need to reach everybody, but creating a Signal group exposes every name and you as the squatter. A broadcast channel? Not available on Signal.

Until now. Signalblast is an open-source, self-hosted bot that sends anonymous, encrypted broadcasts to subscribers.

This talk will explain how it works, how you can run your own bot, and what the privacy considerations are.

The Uprising in France

Benjamin

16:30 - 17:30

Mushroom

ENG

As the French state stares into the abyss of economic and political crisis, and suburban youth rise up against their miserable present and even worse future, the streets are once again ablaze with revolutionary possibility. This talk will provide some context on the current political moment we are living through. And it will offer a space to discuss its causes, effects, and implications for other social movements across Europe and beyond.

Riot Medicine: Organizing as a medic

J.

16:30 - 18:30

ENG

An introduction to organizing as street medics based on experiences in Berlin since 2017. This talk will focus on how we organize as a network, issues we've faced with organizing, the repression we face (and avoid), and strategies we use during actions in the course of our work.

Talk will be of greatest interest to those who do or want to organize as medics.

Talk will be under an hour. Remaining time will be for discussion and sharing experiences.

Presented in relation to Paper Jam's print of Riot Medicine. Not presented by the book author(s). Not a first aid workshop.

Anarchisme voor Amsterdammers
Vrije Bond Amsterdam
16:30 - 18:30
Kelder 3
NL

In this workshop, you'll discover why, as an Amsterdammer, you're actually already an anarchist!

We'll take you on a journey through Amsterdam's old working-class neighborhoods, the resistance during World War II, and the squatters' movement. We'll also discuss how you can use this knowledge to continue building the anarchist movement in Amsterdam.

So come hear how the anarchist struggle is intertwined with Amsterdam, and how we can build on that to combat fascism, exploitation, and all forms of oppression!

Collecting protest songs
Leni & Kali
16:30 - 18:30
Rapenburg
ENG

We would like to collect protest songs from across movements and countries during this workshop! We will practice a few and put the rest in a booklet that we will print, so that we always have some songs on hand to lift our spirits and our revolutions with.

Is there a life after prison (Belarus)

Anarchist Black Cross Belarus

17:30 - 18:30

Mushroom

ENG

Thousands of political prisoners have spent years behind bars for their resistance against dictatorship in Belarus. Among them are dozens of anarchists and antifascists. In recent years, multiple people have been released.

In this talk, I would like to focus on the experience of anarchists and other activists in Belarusian prisons and their way to non-prison life after release/deportation. What kind of solidarity work is required to help those people, and what structures exist in the Belarusian diaspora to help people return to society after years of struggle against dictatorship behind bars.

Ordinary people don't carry machine guns

Book presentation 'Ordinary People Don't Carry Machine Guns"

with the author: Artem Chapeye (online)

Artem reveals his war, intimate and senseless, withholding nothing about his motivations, his nightmares, his new relationship with the world. Here, one man, a pacifist and anarchist turned fighter, a story writer turned soldier, considers the reasons for and reactions to war on a very personal level.

When the Sentence Never Ends
Fires of Freedom
11:30 - 13:30
Flores
ENG

In Russia, prison sentences for anarchists and other political prisoners are becoming longer, while new criminal cases are increasingly opened against people already imprisoned. Using the case of anarchist mathematician Azat Miftakhov and others, we will discuss repeated prosecution, prison hierarchies, resistance, and the limits of traditional prisoner support. We will then ask what international solidarity can do to help secure prisoners' release. During a short break, we will share chifir and koryak — prison tea and cake — while symbolically rejecting the caste rules that determine who may eat and drink together.

Eco-Fascism and Climate Breakdown

Sea levels rise, temperatures increase, and far-right movements gain traction. This workshop explores a range of right-wing responses to climate breakdown, with a particular focus on eco-fascism: what it is, how it develops, and why it is gaining attention.

Together, we will examine common eco-fascist narratives and discuss how they can appear within environmental and social movements, often in subtle ways. The session aims to provide participants with tools to recognize and challenge exclusionary, authoritarian, and nationalist responses to ecological crises while strengthening anti-authoritarian approaches to climate justice.

No prior knowledge is required.

Rise of Authoritarian Leftism in Germany

Kronstadt259

11:30 - 13:30

Mushroom

ENG

In Germany, authoritarian leftists: Bolshevists, Leninists, and Stalinists are having a large comeback.

An overview of this development, including strategies and topics they try to instrumentalize, like anti-imperialism, anti-militarism, and war, and how they attack sex workers, trans and Jewish people massively now.

Supplemented with a description of how left-liberals, centrists, and right-wingers are trying to capitalize on the rise of authoritarian leftism for their own counter-insurgency and racism.

The final point is the need for anarchist strategies against the Authoritarian Left and that its rise is caused by the same social crisis that pushes authoritarianism in general.

Followed by an open discussion.

Self Defense: Locks, Stand/Ground

Supay

11:30 - 13:30

Rapenburg

ENG

Situations where securities grab or restrain you can escalate quickly, and knowing how to get out of a hold makes a real difference. This workshop is built around exactly those scenarios. We'll focus on practical locks and techniques, along with tips to help you free yourself when someone has you restrained, whether you are on your feet or on the floor.

Please come prepared for physical contact and for working both standing and on the ground.

Everything is practiced in a controlled, safe environment.

Join us, train with purpose, and leave with techniques you can apply.

Info session on Transgender HRT
T-RREx (Trans Radical Resource Exchange)
14:00 - 16:00
Flores
ENG

Have you ever wanted to learn about hormones, testosterone blockers, and other medications? Are you in need of trans healthcare, but is the system gatekeeping it from you? There is an answer: community support for trans people, by trans people. We'll teach you what the effects of hormones are, what safe dosages are, when and where to get blood tests, and how to safely inject.

Accessibility for everyone!
Anarchist Group Amsterdam
14:00 - 16:00
Seram
ENG

Who is missing at the table? Is an accessible toilet all you need? What to do when accessibility feels like an impossible task?

In this workshop, we look at both the needs that are there and practical ways we can accommodate them. Anyone is welcome! So allies, come join our fight!

Accessibility

- Interactive lecture with visual aid + sit-down exercise in small groups
- English (feel free to bring a whisper translator or interpreter)

- Room information currently unknown
- Mask wearing encouraged
- Any questions or needs? Contact: aga@agamsterdam.org

Prairieland Solidarity Letter Writing
Prairieland (US) Solidarity and ABC Prisoner Support

14:00 - 16:00
Mushroom

ENG

The workshop will offer information on the "Prairieland Defendants" in Texas. The Prairieland Defendants are over a dozen individuals sentenced to 30-100 years in prison under fascist "Antifa terrorism" designation.

In addition, letter-writing materials and guides for safely sending letters to prisoners in the USA will be made available to participants. Letters to prisoners offer lifelines of hope and support through some of the harshest times. Every letter sent is a reminder of solidarity that exists beyond the walls, and a simple practice that helps preserve international solidarity and a community that supports one another amidst worsening repression.

Classroom as a "safer space"
Spicy

14:00 - 16:00
Kraken's Cove

ENG

This workshop tackles the complex topic of "safer spaces" and their application in a classroom setting. If you are interested in the ethical implications of being an educator — join us to learn, discuss, question, disagree, and take agency in HOW we approach knowledge dissemination. Put your decolonial pants on and let's get to work!

Organizing without cancelling each other

Maiznīca collective (LV)

14:00 - 16:00

Kelder 4

ENG

How can we work and grow together without policing and cancelling each other?

In this workshop, we would like to talk about some practical methods our collective is trying out as well as to give platform for everyone to share and discuss stories of conflict resolution, repair, transformative justice and emotional management infrastructure in their collectives.

Demonstrating... what exactly?

Scrappy Capy Distro

14:00 - 16:00

ENG

A case study in Berlin's protest culture with a focus on the Palestine movement over the last three years that looks at why social movements focus so much on protest and why protests are often counterinsurgent. But it's not just about Berlin or PaliSol. Issues we see here are not unique, so the aim is to inform about our local context to help you effect change in yours.

Based on the contents of our zine with the same title.

Talk + discussion.

Sovereign debt and exploitation

Debt for Climate

14:00 - 16:00

Rapenburg

ENG

Role play as a country to experience the impact of sovereign debt! Learn about the debt burdens shouldered by various countries and how the global debt system shapes the relationship between governments and their (human and more-than-human) citizens. We'll start with a check-in of perspectives in the room, form small teams to play a game, and then discuss.

Prepare for Arrest & Interrogation Training

Arrestantengroep/Legal Support Group

16:30 - 18:30

Flores

ENG

Prepare for Arrest is a workshop to help people prepare in case they get arrested during a political action or demonstration. It will be an interactive workshop for everyone - with or without experience of being arrested.

Any action or demonstration carries the risk of arrest. In this workshop, we want to provide tools and experiences on how to prepare for this. We will do an interrogation training, explain practicalities and your rights, and answer questions concerning arrest and the consequences of participating in an action or demo.

Conflict in Community: Tools for Repair and Liberation

Het Zwaluwnestje

16:30 - 18:30

Seram

ENG

Do you sometimes feel like we're better at analysing systems than dealing with the difficult conversation in front of us? In this 2-hour workshop given by members of het Zwaluwnestje co-operative living, we will critically look at key classifications of conflict, and you will leave with practical tools on how to handle conflict better. Expect psychology, politics, and philosophy, all wrapped up in applied exercises to make things real and relevant.

Whether you are living collectively or not, conflict is love's most honest invitation. We invite you to this workshop.

The violent border regime of Bulgaria

ENG

"Border regime Bulgaria"- short movie screening, Q&A and collective solidarity action

The short documentary highlights the struggle of people who have faced deportation from EU countries to Bulgaria and gives an inside to the bBulgariancamp & detention regime. The Q&A spotlights the resistance of people in detention and creates a space to exchange about how to continue, maintain, or start forms of direct & mutual support in times of growing restrictions due to the new pact of migration implemented earlier this year. Following this, there will be a session of writing solidarity notes to people currently detained in Bulgaria

Soundtrack voor de revolutie

Ya Basta!

Kraken's Cove

NL

Book Presentation and Discussion

The book is about protest music, anarchism, and the search for ways to make the world a fairer, freer, and more beautiful place. It grew out of the column of the same name in the anarchist quarterly Buiten de Orde.

Christiaan Verweij spoke with various activists about how they use music as part of their mission to change the world.

The book also includes a personal story about the journey toward anarchism.

In addition to a presentation of the book, we'll engage in a discussion about what the soundtrack for the revolution might look like.

Le Chemin de la liberté
Solidarity collectives

16:30 - 18:30
Kelder 4

ENG

Le Chemin de la liberté (Road to Freedom) is a new documentary about anti-authoritarian resistance in Ukraine.

4 years ago, Russia launched a full-scale imperialist war of aggression against Ukraine. In response, the Ukrainian people managed to resist and built a wide range of self-organised initiatives to confront both the invasion and its devastating consequences.

Among those involved in resistance are feminists, environmentalists, trade unionists, anarchists, and antifascists. Most activists are Ukrainian, but some come from abroad to support the struggle. They all represent anti-authoritarian movement in Ukraine that draws strong parallels with the struggle of the anarchist Nestor Makhno a century ago. His legacy continues to inspire their fight against Russian occupation and their determination to defend a path towards freedom. Language: French, Ukrainian, Belarusian, Russian with English subtitles

Return amidst genocide
Zochrot

16:30 - 17:30

ENG

Over the past year, the NGO Zochrot gathered a study-action group based in Biʾr as-Saba' occupied Palestine that focused on the right of return of Palestinian refugees from Gaza. Research, lived knowledge, and political imagination come together in their practical proposal for return. In this talk, a member of the group will present the proposal, reflect on the process behind it, and discuss how anarchist movements relate to the right of return.

Discussion about resisting eviction

Autonomous squatters worldwide

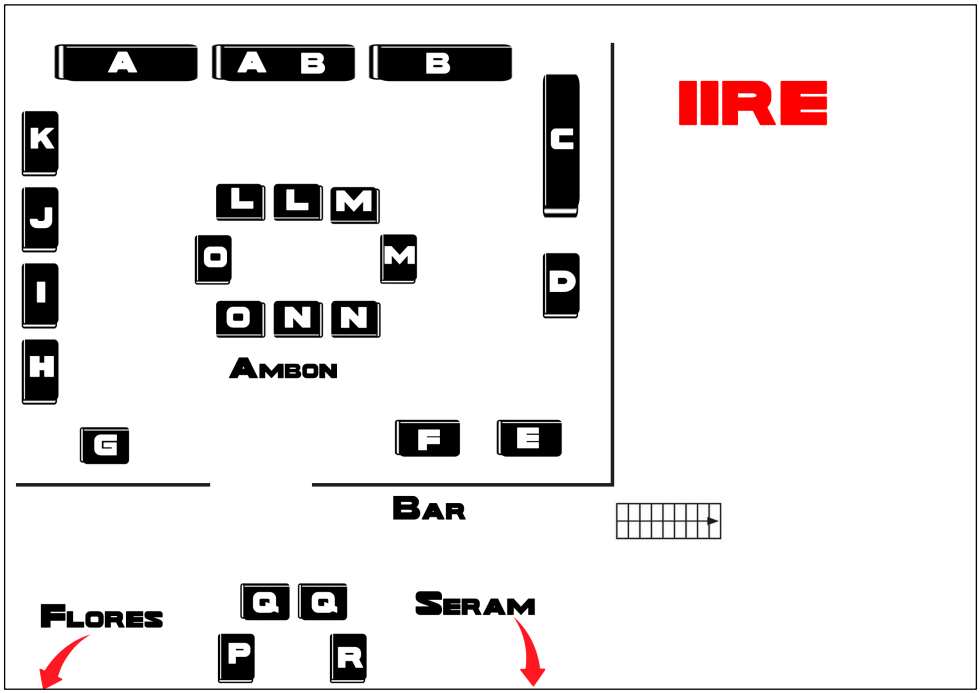

17:30 - 18:30

ENG

Anyone reading might have wondered at some point if they should resist the eviction of their squat, paint over the fascist mural in their city, or if it is not worth the resources and repression. This discussion is to talk about the issue of apathy in the movement, how resisting can be a tool against this, or whether it gives in to the narrative of repression. We invite anyone to share experiences, thoughts, and examples from the past.
